U.S. Prepared To Risk War To Keep Freedoms

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson says the United States "must be prepared to risk war" to keep its freedom, yet ready to "seek just compromise" to achieve peace.

This was Johnson's keynote message Sunday as he ended a three-day trip into Michigan and Minnesota. He took up the matter of war and peace in his only non-political speech of the trip, at a Swedish Day festival in Minneapolis.

Facing thousands of cheering Minnesotans who stood under shade trees in Minnehaha Park, Johnson said:

"Today, as always, if a nation is to keep its freedom it must be prepared to risk war. When necessary, we will take that risk. But as long as I am president, I will spare neither my office nor myself in the quest for peace."

In South Viet Nam, Johnson said, "We are engaged in a brutal and bitter struggle for the freedom of a friend" and "we will stand firm to help maintain freedom and give them counsel and advice and help as necessary." This was a change from his prepared text, which read, "There too, we will use the force necessary to help them maintain their own freedom."

Johnson had this to say about compromising East-West differences in the interest of peace:

"We must remember that differences with others do not always flow from a desire for domination. They can come from honest clash of beliefs or goals. In such cases our strength does not entitle us to impose our interest. Rather, our desire for peace compels us to seek just compromise."

In discussing "the several paths we take to peace," Johnson made some pointed statements about the civil rights problem at home in talking about "the ability to adjust disputes without the use of force."

Johnson said that in the pursuit of justice, the nation can find guidance "here in our own country's historic pledge to the rule of law."

Speaking as much about civil rights as the quest for international peace, Johnson said:

"As a president of the United States, and as an individual citizen, I stand totally committed to the integrity of justice and the enforcement of the law." Johnson said the United States is pledged to "abide by the law and accept its settlements . . . to submit to courts and be satisfied by court decisions . . . to respect, uphold and obey the law of the land."

If anyone takes a grievance or dispute into his own hands, Johnson said, "the safety and freedom of all is imperiled."

Speaking specifically of racial unrest, Johnson said:

"Today, the key to peace in our own land is obedience to the great moral command that no man should deny to another the liberties the Constitution creates, as the law defines those liberties."

Johnson flew to Minneapolis Saturday afternoon from Detroit and, that evening, addressed a Democratic fund-raising dinner.

Fire Damages Local Home

The home of Montford Pollock, located behind the Circleville Ice Plant on the Island Road, was extensively damaged by fire early Sunday morning. City firefighters were called to the area at 4:50 a. m. Damage to the house and its contents was estimated at $400.

A spokesman for the fire department said the blaze apparently started in a davenport outside the house. The firemen believed a smoldering cigarette may have ignited the piece of furniture.

A cigarette was also attributed as the cause of a fire call at 3 a. m. yesterday.

Paul Gaines, 205½ W. Main St., apparently fell asleep while smoking in bed. He called the fire department to douse a blaze in his mattress.

Miami Prexy Set To Take New Job

OXFORD, Ohio (AP) — Dr. John D. Millett ends 11 years as president of Miami University Tuesday. On Wednesday he'll become the first chancellor-director of the Ohio Board of Regents at a salary of $40,000.

The Board of Regents was recently created by the General Assembly to guide Ohio's higher education program.

Dr. Millett will be the highest paid state government official. He came to Miami in 1953 and since then the University's Oxford campus grew from an enrollment of 5,000 to 8,600. Off-campus enrollment has gone from 1,000 to nearly 4,000.

GOP WAR COUNCIL — Gov. William Scranton (left) looks on during news conference after a two-hour meeting in Indianatown Gap, Pa. After the conference both Scranton and Rockefeller predicted that Sen. Barry Goldwater will not win the party's Presidential nomination unless he makes it on the first ballot at the national convention in San Francisco, beginning July 13.

Once Around Roundtown

THE Pickaway County Jail had its youngest tenant during Sheriff Walton W. Spangler's tenure in office yesterday morning.

A woman arrested by Circleville Police early yesterday morning, had with her a 6-week-old baby boy.

No one from the child welfare department could be contacted at the early hour so the woman was permitted to keep the baby with her in the cell.

Approximately four hours later the child welfare department arrived to arrange care for the youngster.

A CAUTION to drivers from city police: The local radar unit, in operation since 4 p. m. last Wednesday, has arrested 29 motorists for speeding.

The heaviest activity came Saturday when 15 drivers were cited. The fastest speed recorded was 52 miles per hour in a 35 mile zone.

Chief Robert Temple reminded that the radar unit will be in operation every day throughout the city.

Final Action Is Ahead on Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House takes final congressional action on the civil rights bill this week as it pushes toward a recess in advance of the Republican National Convention.

The sweeping bill is slated for approval Wednesday or Thursday. Then it is to go to President Johnson's desk in time for a Fourth of July signing ceremony.

Ahead of civil rights on the House calendar is the annual foreign aid appropriations bill, which at $3.3 billion has been cut less than any previous bill. Rep. Otto E. Passman, D-La., defeated in his own subcommittee on efforts to slash it more, will take his fight to the House floor.

The Senate takes up Wednesday the federal pay raise bill, which raises many categories of federal workers' pay, including a big boost for congressmen and senators. The House bill gave members a $7,500 raise to $30,000 a year.

Also slated for Senate action are a proposal to expand the federal food stamp plan, several annual appropriation bills and extension of the federal highway program.

Senate and House conferees meet today to work out a compromise in excise tax bills. The Senate bill included repeal of taxes on such items as costume jewelry, handbags and cosmetics and reduction of others. The House bill was confined to extending so-called Korean war temporary excises on auto parts, transportation fares and the like.

Police Protect Civil Rightists

Escort Is Given Into Florida Surf

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP) — More than 200 state policemen, some holding dogs on leashes, escorted 30 civil rights demonstrators into the surf at St. Augustine Beach today.

The new assault on this old city's racial barriers came as the possibility of a truce loomed in the long conflict between Negroes and whites.

Forming a wedge, the police broke through a line of 10 white segregationists and walked into the water in full uniform. There, they formed protection for the demonstrators.

A new effort to establish a biracial committee was reported nearing success, but it was unknown if the proposed group of two whites and two Negroes could accomplish much immediately.

Community leaders predicted that any group would have a difficult time because the middle ground has all but disappeared in the furious, month-long push for integration by Negroes and the equally determined resistance by whites.

There has been almost no communication between the two races for more than a week, following collapse of the first effort to find a settlement.

In the first fruitless attempt, a St. Johns County grand jury called for a 30-day truce in public demonstrations, after which a biracial committee would have been established. The Negro leader, the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., rejected this and sought immediate formation of the committee.

The grand jury refused to negotiate along these lines. The pace of demonstrations by both Negroes and whites was stepped up. Fist fights and other violence became a daily occurrence as integrationists were met on the beaches and city streets by fist-swinging whites.

Gov. Farris Bryant clamped on a curfew to end public parades at night. That brought him into U.S. District Court faced with a possible contempt citation in a case to be decided Tuesday.

The climax to the violence came Thursday night when hundreds of whites brushed aside police guards and routed a Negro parade.

The outbreak brought the governor here the next day. He has been in the forefront in reopening lines of communication.

SINGAPORE, Malaysia (AP) Police have arrested 54 persons for Communist subversive activity in a crackdown at the Chinese-language Nanyang University, informed sources say.

Turk Calls Greek Peace Offer Just 'Empty Words'

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Dr. Fazil Kuchuk, Turkish vice president of Cyprus, described today as "empty words" a second peace offer by Gen. George Grivas, Greek Cypriot hero of the guerrilla war against Britain.

Grivas repeated his offer Sunday in his first public appearance since returning to the island he helped win independence in 1959. He called for peaceful coexistence between Greek and Turkish Cypriots in a "free Greek Cyprus."

Grivas promised friendship and amnesty for the island's Turkish minority, which has been locked in a bitter struggle with the Greek Cypriots since December.

Kuchuk said Grivas would put the island's Turks "at the mercy of the Greeks."

While Grivas was speaking, he said, Greeks and Turks were exchanging gunfire in a nearby village and one Turk was killed. "Is this the kind of treatment the general wishes to offer the Turks?" Kuchuk asked.

Burglary Suspects Nabbed by Police

A case of close checking during routine patrol duty paid dividends for city police early Sunday morning. Taken into custody on charges of burglary were four men and a woman, all of the West Virginia, Maryland area.

Being held here are Joseph Dorsey, 38, Mt. Savage, Md.; Leroy Workman, 36, and Raymond Gandy, 20, Charleston, W. Va.; Roy E. Harding, 18, Elkview, W. Va.; and Irene Martin, 19, also of Charleston. Mrs. Martin had her 6-week-old son with her.

The five persons were charged with burglarizing the Yates Motor Co. and the Circle Auto Parts Store next door. Two peanut machines and $10.91 from a softdrink unit were taken from the auto firm.

The entries were discovered by Patrolman Jack Mills while on normal patrol. He launched a quick search when he saw rear windows broken at both buildings.

SEVERAL unusual angles developed in the hurried search of the buildings that followed. One of the men involved, hiding in the auto parts store restroom, was overlooked. He was caught a short time later on Route 23 about a mile south of the city.

Another entry participant admitted that he was hiding in nearby shrubbery when Patrolman Mills drove into the area. He was apprehended a little later on Court St. near Mill St.

Gandy, Harding, Mrs. Martin and the infant were taken into custody on Dunmore Road where they had parked their car. The car had been seen in this vicinity earlier by David Valentine of this community. He notified police who quickly investigated.

Dispatched to assist Mills in the initial search were city Patrolmen Larry Pontious, Wesley Barton, State Patrolman R. E. Carson and Sheriff's Deputy Bud Allison.

Dorsey, hiding in the restroom of the parts store, said he escaped through a window after officers left the building. Patrolman Carson caught him on Route 23 a little later.

Resigned Envoy Hails Scranton

Viet Nam Campaign Is Said 'On Track'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Henry Cabot Lodge declared today that he considered it a higher duty for him to return home and fight for the Republican presidential nomination for Gov. William Scranton than to remain as U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam.

He told a White House news conference, after receiving a flowing farewell from President Johnson, that he felt the war in South Viet Nam was "on the track," while "I felt the Republican party is not on the track."

Affirming that he did not believe it was too late for Scranton to head off the front-running Sen. Barry Goldwater for his party's presidential nomination, Lodge strongly indicated he would attempt to enlist former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's active support for Scranton.

Lodge helped engineer Eisenhower's nomination in 1952. Lodge returned to a theme he had hammered upon his arrival four hours earlier, at Andrews Air Force Base — the duty of both political parties to nominate men who are prudent and not impulsive.

He said that the president of the United States is the man who makes the decision about the use of the atomic bomb.

"That is something that is very real," he said.

"There is a threshold below which no party should go in nominating a man for the presidency," he emphasized.

"Both parties should nominate for president a man who is not impulsive or imprudent."

"Having been in a foreign post and seeing how the President makes decisions on life and death matters, with the President having control over the atomic bomb, I believe both parties must nominate prudent men—not impulsive men, and I think Gov. Scranton is one of our best men."

As for the assignment from which he is retiring, Lodge said he is confident of eventual victory over the Communists in South Viet Nam.

Lodge was asked what he thinks about proposals which figured in the developing political debate for using atomic weapons to defoliate forests in Viet Nam and thus strip the cover from Communist supply routes and hiding places.

"We defoliate every day," Lodge replied. "Using an atomic bomb to defoliate is like using an atomic bomb to light a cigarette. We use weed killer."

Of the war in Viet Nam, Lodge said "We had some favorable developments in the last few days."

"Just before I left, I received reports that for the first time people were not feeding the Viet Cong. These reports came from persons who have always been reliable in the past and who have not been particularly optimistic," Lodge said.

"The Viet Cong have stepped up terrorism against women and children. They have always been politically smart in the past and they have generally spared women and children."

"Essentially this is a contest over who can win people over. I think these are hopeful surface signs. Obviously there is no victory yet. But I believe that if we persist there isn't any question at all that there will be a victory in South Viet Nam."

Lodge was asked whether he thinks Viet Nam will be an issue in the campaign.

"Generally speaking any matter of public policy is subject to debate," he said. "I don't see how it is practical to make this a political issue."

Mississippi Hunt Pressed

275 More Civil Rights Aides Appear

PHILADELPHIA, Miss. (AP) — Authorities today probed a report that two young white men were seen standing by a station wagon similar to one driven by the three civil rights workers who vanished eight days ago.

The widespread search for clues in the baffling disappearance of Michael Schwerner, 24; Andy Goodman, 20, both of New York; and James Chaney, 22, a Meridian Negro, continued in this red clay hill section of east-central Mississippi.

One hundred sailors from the Navy's airfield at Meridian rejoin the highway patrol and FBI to search west of this town of 5,000 as other officers dragged small lakes and streams.

Chief investigator Gwin Cole of the highway patrol said one witness had reported seeing a station wagon near a side road in the Bogue Chitto swamp near the spot where the burned vehicle used by the missing trio was found last Tuesday.

The witness, Cole said, spotted the station wagon and two men, whom he described as "of similar appearance" to Goodman and Schwerner, last Monday before noon.

At least six persons have told authorities they had passed the site around 11 a.m. last Monday and saw nothing.

Choctaw Indians confessed they stripped the hubcaps off the burned-out vehicle about 5 p.m. last Monday.

Some 275 more summer volunteer civil rights workers poured into this racially tense state over the weekend. Goodman had arrived the previous weekend in the advance guard of about 175 collegians from the north and west.

The students will work with the Council of Federated Organizations' Negro education and voter registration projects. The council coordinates activities of the major civil rights groups operating in the state.

Enthusiastic Group Present For Pre-Crusade Rally Here

An enthusiastic gathering of about 200 persons was on hand for Saturday evening's Billy Graham Pre-Crusade Rally at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds.

The rally's two speakers, rated exceptionally good by those attending, were the Rev. Robert Harrison of the Billy Graham Crusade team and Tom Barrington of Lima, president of the "Campus Crusade for Christ" chapter at Ohio State University and a star OSU football player.

A highlight of the evening was a performance by a community choir group. About 40 members from most Circleville churches participated.

The choir group was under the direction of Montford Kirkwood Jr. and Hal Spencer. Members offered several hymns as part of the evening's program.

REV. HARRISON, rated an outstanding member of the Billy Graham team, delivered the sermon. He offered a preview of the Graham Crusade which is scheduled for July 10-19 at Jet Stadium in Columbus.

Barrington, a 210-pound football standout, listed many facts on his own background. He described the rich and full reward of dedicating one's life to Christ.

The Pre-Crusade Rally, held in conjunction with the coming Graham Crusade in Columbus, was directed by a special committee here representing numerous local churches.

The committee has scheduled chartered bus trips from here for several nights of the Crusade. Dale DeLong, chairman of the group, said a few seats are still available for the nights of July 10 and 17. Persons interested may contact him or members of his panel.

Bond Is $2000 In Armed Robbery

Harold Kneese of Chillicothe, charged with armed robbery by Harold D. Easter of Williamsport, is being held in Pickaway County jail under $2,000 bond pending a hearing in Municipal Court.

According to a story told to Pickaway County Deputy Sheriff Warren Straley by Easter, Kneese took him home from Circleville early Sunday morning.

When they reached Easter's residence, Kneese asked to borrow some money. When he didn't get the sum requested, he allegedly drew a knife and held it to Easter's throat while taking his pocketbook.

Easter managed to jerk free, but his right hand was cut in the process.

Kneese then drove off. A short time later he wrecked his car in Ross County, and was held by officials there for the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department. The hearing is slated for Thursday.

Swim Meet Called Off By Lack of — Water
AKRON, Ohio (AP) — More than 800 swimmers from three states went home disappointed after their meet was halted for lack of water.

The water in the private pool in Richfield dropped Sunday to three feet below its normal level. There was only six feet of water in the deep end and the shallow parts were almost dry. The swimmers were from Ohio, Pennsylvania and Illinois.

A meet official attributed the drastic loss of water overnight to a malfunction of mechanical pumping equipment. It would take three days to replace the water that was lost, the official added.

Jaycees Project To Clear Playground Site Under Way

A Circleville Junior Chamber of Commerce project to clear a parcel of southend land for recreational use got under way in fine fashion yesterday.

Jaycees members, aided by additional volunteer help and the loan of equipment by local firms, combined forces to clear about .79 acres of land donated to the city by heirs of the Smith estate. The area, to be used as a recreational site, is generally bounded by Maplewood and Harrison Avenues and Route 23.

Most of yesterday's work was concentrated on removing an old fence row, bushes and farm material and debris. A complete mowing of the land also was accomplished.

Approximately 15 Jaycees aided extensively by Sam and Charles Smith, completed the bulk of the work under the direction of William Stout and Dwight Radcliff, project chairmen.

Charles H. Glitt, one of the negotiators in obtaining the land also assisted.

THE LOCAL Sturm & Dillard Co. provided a truck and high-lift to speed the operation. Raymond Tomlinson and Elmer Karshner of the firm volunteered their services as operators of the vehicles.

Kenny Hannan Ford provided a wrecker to remove and drag away heavy obstacles. A power unit was furnished by the J. B. Stout Co.

The Jaycees committee hopes to disc the area in the near future and the level the ground for drainage purposes. They plan to meet with the City Service Director and Park Board to set a proper grade.

The site will be known as "Smith's Memorial Park". Another future project will be securing necessary playground equipment.

Runaway Girls Held for Parents

Two girls of 15, one from Columbus and one from Sunbury, were released to their parents today by city police after admittedly running away from home last night.

Robert Ransom, a teacher at Circleville High School, saw the girls on Route 23 near Shadeville last night. He picked them up and brought them to the local police station.

The youngsters said they were on the way to Lebanon, O., to visit a sister of one girl. They told Patrolman Larry Pontious they had run away. The parents were notified immediately.

Health Nurse Lists Report For June

Mrs. Helen Pickens, Pickaway County public health nurse, today released her June report to the Board of Health.

A rumor of scarlet fever was investigated during the month involving 86 children. All were negative reports.

Seven visits to crippled children and two home calls were made to mental patients. Two home calls for prenatal cases were made as requested by the University Hospital Clinic for out-patients.

The report indicated that one emergency case was handled during the period. Emergency first aid was given when a person suffered a deep laceration of the thumb.

A second pre-school clinic at Saltcreek Twp. for shots was held at Saltcreek and Pickaway Twp. schools.

Routine immunizations were given and the TB Clinic was conducted at Berger Hospital.

Sinatra Celebrates His Debut as Film Director

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Parties to celebrate the end of shooting on a movie have become scarce in economy-minded Hollywood.

They are still thrown with a lavish hand by Frank Sinatra. Take the one he tossed for the finish of "None But the Brave." Three hundred persons crowded into Stage 17 at Warners which had been converted into a night club set. They included members of the cast and crew, their wives and dates, studio department heads, members of the Sinatra cabinet, and Miss Angie Dickinson, the current Sinatra date.

Two bars flowed with the best of libations. A combo played while the guests re-lived memories of the Hawaiian location and studied a long gallery of photographs from the film. There was much camaraderie between the Americans and the Japanese actors who played enemies in the Pacific war script.

Sinatra, who made his debut as a director in "None But the Brave," greeted the guests at the door and planted kisses on the wives' cheeks. Midway in the party the combo sounded a fanfare, and cast member Brad Dexter took the floor.

The actor, who helped save his leader from the briny in the Hawaiian surf, presented Sinatra with the company's gift: an 18th century tankard made of English oak from a sunken ship.

"You're about the best group of people I've ever met," said the producer-director-star with feeling. "I love you dearly."

He added: "This has been the most revealing, exciting, emotional experience of my life. You were all great to help me when I didn't know what the hell I was doing. I think what we made will be a successful picture—not as a spectacle like 'Fall of the Roman Empire,' not as an artistic film like 'Night of the Iguana,' but simply as a good movie."

His speech was followed by applause and presentation of a framed placard containing signatures of the company members. More applause, and Sinatra returned to mingling with the group.

He brought the film in two and a half days under schedule, despite adding 40 camera shots that weren't in the script. "The savings in film stock alone amounted to $40,000," he reported proudly.

2 Bowling Green Coeds Qualify for Miss Ohio

CEDAR POINT, Ohio (AP)—Two Bowling Green State University students are the latest to win "Queen" titles qualifying them for the Miss Ohio Pageant here July 1-4.

Sharon Martin of Fremont, a Bowling Green sophomore, was crowned Miss Vacationland Saturday night at Port Clinton, winning a $500 scholarship. Karen Rae Kinsey, 20-year-old Bowling Green student from Tippecanoe, was named Miss Clayland Saturday night as National Clay Week festivities wound up in Dennison.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Here is the official U.S. Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather:

Fair skies prevailed throughout the state Sunday night and daybreak found temperatures mostly in the 60s. At 6 a.m., Zanesville had 60, Columbus 62, Dayton 66 and Youngstown 68.

A large mass of high pressure centered over West Virginia this morning but encompassing the entire eastern half of the nation was expected to move very slowly eastward, and therefore little change in the weather was anticipated across Ohio through Tuesday.

This meant bright sunshine and warm temperatures today and Tuesday and clear and mild tonight. However, as the winds switched to the southwesterly direction Tuesday, humidity will be on the increase.

Ohio Five-Day Forecast

Temperatures will average three to five degrees above normal through Saturday. Representative normals are Cleveland 81-60, Columbus 86-62, Cincinnati 87-66. Warm throughout the week, with only minor day-to-day temperature changes but with increasing humidity. Rainfall will average about one-quarter inch as widely scattered showers and thundershowers middle and latter part of week but most numerous Thursday and Saturday.

NEW YORK (AP)—So far 1964 has been a year for the books — certainly for the front pages.

—A year that has seen Uncle Sam rather than the boss sweeten many take-home paychecks.

—Seen investors scramble for shares in a space venture and for rights to buy the biggest offer ever of down-to-earth corporate common shares.

—The job total climb above 71 million but with unemployment only slightly nicked.

—Corporate profits soar to a surprisingly high record.

—Personal incomes and spending and debt set new highs — and also the cost of living.

—A business upturn set a postwar record for long life without assistance of government spending for armed conflict.

—Businessmen steadily revising upward their predictions for output, sales, profits, spending for expansion.

Each of the six months has had its quota of news of special interest to businessmen and consumers.

President Johnson predicted in January that the total output of goods and services this year would reach $623 billion, or $40 billion more than in 1963. He also called a stir in business and taxpayer circles by proposing to spend a bit less in the fiscal year starting July 1 and to cut the next Treasury deficit to half of the estimate for the current year.

In February the President signed the federal income tax cut bill, estimated to save taxpayers $11.5 billion, with corporations benefitting by $2.4 billion. American Telephone & Telegraph stirred the investment market with a 2-for-1 stock split and an offer to its stockholders of rights to buy $1,223,000,000 more, at a price $46 a share below the market price at that time. It was the biggest common stock offer on record, and gobbled up.

On the rise for months, the stock market in March finally pierced the 800-point level of the Dow-Jones industrial price index. It was at a record 830.99 by June 26, and other popular averages also were at their highs.

Americans, accustomed for several years to large deficits in international payments, were told that a surprising turn had all but brought the books with the rest of the world into balance. The first quarter ended with corporate profits after taxes soaring to $31 billion annual rate, up $5.7 billion in a year; the Gross National Product at an annual rate of $508 billion, compared with $571.8 billion the year before; and wages and salaries at $323.6 billion against $304.5 billion.

Steel companies in May joined the parade of large corporations notably in the auto and oil industries, announcing big expansion spending plans. And the rails pleased stock traders by reporting that earnings were picking up after a long drought. Industrial output went to a record high of 130.3 per cent of the 1957-59 average.

Stock of the Communications Satellite Corporation was snapped up by the public in June. Auto plants sent the first half output above the previous record, 4,257,150 cars in 1955. Effects of the tax cut began to appear in retail sales as well as in increasing business ordering and planning.

Barry's Ivy Leaguer

By John Chamberlain

If Senator Barry Goldwater gets the nomination at San Francisco, a man who has been called the "least experienced and most unknown Presidential manager" in recent history will suddenly loom on the horizon as "the man who did it" for Barry. His name is Denison Kitchel, and he hails from the city of Phoenix in Goldwater's home state, which, of course, makes him the leading member of what has been called the "Arizona Mafia."

The odd thing about Mr. Kitchel, however, is that, like Teddy Roosevelt, he is a Westerner chiefly by adoption. He is, as a matter of fact, a product of the Northeast, a St. Paul school (New Hampshire) boy who became a graduate of two Ivy League universities (B.A., Yale, 1930, a Harvard law degree in 1933), a native of Bronxville (which was once the home of Jack Kennedy), and the son of a senior partner in the eminent Wall Street law firm of Cadwalader, Wickersham and Taft. In between his graduation from Yale and his journeying to Cambridge to study law at the institution dominated by Professor Felix Frankfurter, Mr. Kitchel spent a year at the School for International Studies at Geneva in Switzerland. His ambition at the time was to become an expert on international law.

So much for the early background of the man who has presided over the Goldwater political fortunes ever since last January. What burns Mr. Kitchel up is the propaganda that, as head of the "Arizona Mafia," he is confidently expected to lead a bunch of whooping cowboy isolationists into the White House if Goldwater should make it all the way.

This propaganda has bothered this columnist, too. Ever since I read Goldwater's long statement of his foreign policy position in Life magazine last February, I have been convinced that Goldwater should in all logic, be Western Europe's candidate for the Presidency. He is so pronouncedly pro-NATO that he even commended himself to Clarence Streit, the prophet of "Union Now" between the U. S. and the West European democracies. Mr. Streit has printed Goldwater's statements in his magazine, Freedom and Union. But nobody has succeeded in explaining all this to European correspondents in the U. S. Maybe Goldwater will have to make a speech in Strasbourg or Paris to prove his point.

To Mr. Kitchel, everything about Goldwater's foreign policy seems to have got itself twisted 180 degrees around in the public mind. Barry, he says, is the least isolationist candidate running. "Here we have Goldwater," so Mr. Kitchel observes, "wanting desperately to strengthen the bonds of NATO. He is for maintaining our military supremacy so that we will be respected to the point where we shall never have to fight. He wants an overall policy that will make use of economic strength and the resources of psychological warfare."

The LBJ foreign policy, on the other hand, is a no-plan policy — or, as it has been called, the 120-plans foreign policy, 120 being the number of members in the UN. Under Johnson we don't even fire and fall back, we just fall back. This is real isolationism. If we let them take Latin America, we'll really be isolated. Yet Goldwater, who is against this retreat, is called the isolationist. Things couldn't be more twisted."

Mr. Kitchel is convinced that Republican infighting is what has caused the public, erroneously, as he thinks, to get a picture of Goldwater as a man who would be quick on the trigger in foreign affairs. "They twisted our position in New Hampshire," he says. "The voters in New Hampshire didn't want Rocky, and when Goldwater was projected as a rock-boat type the Lodge people simply moved into the vacuum. We've got to get it across that Goldwater is a responsible, prudent individual — for he is just that."

Oh, well, that's the way the ball bounces. It will all come out in the wash when the Republican platform produces a foreign policy plank acceptable to all the candidates.

Try and Stop Me
By BENNETT CERF

HOAGY CARMICHAEL tells about a hunting trip he made with an egomaniac who wouldn't admit that a downpour of rain could have the slightest effect on his marksmanship. Sloshing homeward in a miniature flood, the intrepid hunter heard the whir of a bird's wings overhead, whipped his gun out of the case, took hasty aim, and fired.

The bird flew on undisturbed toward the murky horizon. The hunter watched in dazed silence for a moment, then dashed his gun to the ground, and cried out, "Fly on, you blankety-blank fool bird! Fly on with your god-durned heart shot out!"

Old-timers delight in reminding younger confreres in the Broadway sector that Florenz Ziegfeld, patron saint of the Ziegfeld Follies, was the most infallible picker of feminine glamour girls in all the world. Yet it is an irrefutable fact that when Ziegfeld was in Hollywood selecting a chorus for the motion picture version of "Whoopie," he turned down as "not attractive enough" three 17-year-old girls in one morning who returned later to haunt him: Paulette Goddard, Betty Grable, and Lucille Ball!

SIGNS OF THE TIMES:
In a smorgasbord rendezvous in St. Paul: "Eat like a Norse."
In a girl's gymnasium: "Build a better spouse!"
In every bedroom of a motel which had just installed a new sprinkler system: "Don't smoke in bed. You may drown yourself."

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...
By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Q: What is the doctor-patient relationship?

A: It is a firm bond that assures patients devotion, understanding and psychological support, in addition to treatment of bodily disease. The strength and value of the relationship is based on the sincere interest, dedication and on the faith, confidence and cooperation of the patients.

Q: Who is your doctor?

A: Your doctor and his knowledge represent years of intricate training. But he is a mortal human being. His problems are not unlike those of his patients. He has the identical worries as head of a household, as a father, and even with illness within the framework of his own family. But your doctor can be depended on to objectively evaluate his patient's problems, forgetful for the moment of his own.

Q: Who are his patients?

A: His patients are those people in the community whose illnesses need professional help. These illnesses are often compounded by fears and anxieties which the doctor tries to alleviate.

Q: What the doctor's responsibilities and rights?

A: His major responsibility is to return his patients to good health. He has the right to say, for the moment, "I don't know, but I will find out." Patients sometimes unreasonably insist that he commit himself immediately by knowing all the answers to all the problems of all patients.

Q: What are the patient's responsibilities and rights?

A: The patient has the right to seek relief from his anxieties about illness at any time in addition to treatment for his ailment. The patient's responsibility is to accept the doctor's discriminating judgment in the choice of medical or surgical treatment.

Q: How does a patient obtain an additional consultation?

A: The patient always has the right to request a confirmation.

ing opinion if that added assurance is essential to him. Open and frank discussion with his physician about an additional opinion has many advantages. His doctor can not only suggest a consultant, but can present him with the medical data so vital to an objective opinion. The combined judgment then becomes of greater value.

Q: What is the greatest single threat to the important doctor-patient relationship?

A: It is pathetic, but true, that fees for medical services represent the greatest single disrupting factor. A longstanding relationship of mutual trust can be damaged because the doctor, the patient, or both forgot or neglected to discuss and agree on fees before treatment or surgery. If the doctor forgets, the patient, strangely, may be too embarrassed to ask. Out of this innocent omission arises unnecessary misunderstanding which can harm a treasured relationship.

Good health is basic to the structure of a happy, productive society. The doctor-patient relationship is vital to the strength of his structure.

Non-Vacationer Is a Bore

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Few people are more boring than those who brag they haven't taken a vacation in years. Actually, 85 per cent of U.S. families now enjoy an annual vacation.

Women can hear higher-pitched tones better than men but not as well as dogs.

One out of every 10 children, sooner or later in life, will be incapacitated by a mental illness.

Today's highly paid television entertainers might be startled to know that one of the highest fees ever paid a performer was the $60,000 that pianist Ignace Jan Paderewski received during the 1920s for a single concert at Madison Square Garden. That was in the era when money was worth money.

It is estimated that some 25,000 unqualified "psychological experts' rake in $375 million a year from gullible victims.

It isn't nagging wives who drive husbands to drink. A medical study of the wives of alcoholics and nonalcoholics found no marked differences in their temperaments.

Quotable notables: "Real merit of any kind cannot long be concealed. It may not always be rewarded as it ought; but it will always be known"—Lord Chesterfield.

Some 50 million Americans have difficulty proving they were born because their birth certificates either were not filed or have been destroyed by fire, flood or other cause.

Strawberries got their name from the fact that in the old days it was the custom to cover the plants with straw in winter to protect their roots from freezing. Please do not ask us why the gooseberry is called the gooseberry, as we will have to duck that query.

Quips from our contemporaries: "Definition of the articulate: Describing an accordion without using the hands"—Catholic Digest.

As a nation we are getting older, but as a people we are getting younger. It is estimated that in 1975 half the U.S. population will be under age 26.

Folklore: It is bad luck to get up out of bed backward rather than face forward. Wearing a piece of red woolen yarn around your throat will protect you from the nosebleed. If you carry a horse chestnut in your pocket it will ward off rheumatism. A potato in the pocket will also absorb rheumatic twinges.

It was Finley Peter Dunne who observed, "One of the strangest things about life is that the poor, who need money the most, are the very ones who never have it."

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans are reaching the point where they will have to find some agreement among themselves—on a party platform—but until then they will continue rubbing sandpaper on their wounds.

Next week the 100-man resolutions committee meets in San Francisco to hold hearings on what form the platform should take when the Republican presidential convention opens there July 13.

It has been a confusing Republican year. Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam won the New Hampshire presidential primary although he was far off in Southeast Asia and said he was not a candidate.

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona and New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller had campaigned hard in that unpredictable New England state. Then Rockefeller, by the polls, wasn't supposed to win in Oregon but he did.

While the polls said Rockefeller would win in California, it was Goldwater who won. When the Republican governors met in Cleveland in early June and some talked of stopping Goldwater, none stuck his neck out. Then Pennsylvania's William W.

Scranton suddenly did. He announced he would be a candidate for the Republican nomination. He has been scooting around the country ever since, trying to make inroads on Goldwater but doesn't seem to have made any impressive ones yet.

Then last week Lodge resigned as ambassador, announced his sole reason for doing so was to come home to help Scranton stop Goldwater, and in the process got into a disagreement with other Republicans, including Scranton.

Lodge, who had been ambassador in Southeast Asia under the Democratic administrations of Presidents Kennedy and Johnson, said the war against communism there is on the right track and should not be a political issue this year.

But Goldwater, who has been criticizing the Democrats' Southeast Asian policy for months, said it most definitely is an issue. And Sunday so did Rep. William E. Miller, chairman of the Republican National Committee.

Even Scranton disagreed with Lodge. He said "as far as I am concerned, it is an issue."

Where this is leading is hard to say.

Since Goldwater is a conservative and some of the other top Republican leaders are not — men like Scranton, Lodge, Rockefeller and Michigan's Gov. George Romney — they want a voice in the direction the party takes, even if the convention nominates Goldwater.

Lodge, Romney and Rockefeller are going to appear before the committee in San Francisco to say what they think the platform should contain. Goldwater has said he would like the platform to be merely a statement of principles rather than a list of specifics.

But if he gets the nomination, and at this moment his chances look unexcelled, he will need broad Republican support, not only from party leaders who now disagree with him but from rank-and-file Republicans, too.

This may induce him to compromise on the platform's contents.

For example: while a majority of Republicans in both houses of Congress voted for the civil rights bill, Goldwater voted against it. This may help him with some Southern Democrats but it angered some Republicans.

If they insist on a strong civil rights plank in the platform, it is possible Goldwater won't make an issue of it. He can explain that while he voted against the bill he would, as a presidential duty, enforce it if elected.

The platform problem may produce the convention's greatest heat.

Stock Mart's High Trend Eyed

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market last week completed a seven-week period of consolidation and advanced to historic highs in the popular stock market averages.

The business news background to Wall Street was not of the best and market action was irregular much of the time. As selective strength rotated from stock to stock and group to group, however, it all added up to a new peak for stocks on the New York Stock Exchange.

The Dow Jones industrial average last week rose 5.74 to a record closing high of 830.99, topping the previous closing record of 830.17 made on May 7. In the seven weeks since May 7, the Dow industrials took a sharp, 30-point drop to "correct" the sustained march to record highs, and then climbed out of the trough to about the same level as May 7.

Since the record was made by less than a full point and in rather slack trading, it was not entirely convincing to veteran market analysts.

"The proof of the pudding will be what the market does on today," said one analyst.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 3.3 to 311.5, the latest in a series of record peaks it has been aiming prior to Friday's high in the Dow industrials.

Volume of 22,959,882 shares topped the previous week's 22,830,300 and was the highest since the week ended May 23 when 23.8 million shares changed hands.

The week began with an advance which was dampened midway by a statement by Henry Ford II, chairman of Ford Motor Co., to the effect that willingness to accept a strike is "part of the price" of free collective bargaining. The threat of an auto strike is one possible bugaboo which might dim the glowing economic figures that have sustained the market.

Ford's statement, along with a work stoppage by Teamsters that halted deliveries to east coast dealers, accompanied a weakness on Tuesday and a slow decline in the market.

The list perked up, making a sharp advance on Wednesday, as trading in American Telephone's new stock, split 2-for-1, set the pace. In the same session, however, cigarette stocks slumped because of the Federal Trade Commission's new rule that cigarettes must be labeled as hazardous to health starting SWIMMING was the main item on the agenda during the afternoon hours. Skating followed in the evening.

Directing the day's many activities was a committee headed by S. J. (Bud) Fischer, Route 4, public relations official with South - Central.

Miss Anne Lyle Monger, George MacLaren United

Miss Anne Lyle Monger and Mr. George Roy MacLaren were united in marriage 4:30 p. m. Saturday. Dr. Whitney Trousdale performed the ceremony in the First Presbyterian Church, Lancaster.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William D. Monger, Lancaster, and the granddaughter of Mrs. A. J. Lyle, formerly of Circleville. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Albert Roy MacLaren, Buckingham, Canada.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a gown of candlelight peau de soie and Chantilly lace designed with a molded bodice of lace with a scalloped scoop neckline and bracelet length sleeves. The modified sheath skirt, enhanced with an overlay of scalloped lace, was accented at the back with a detachable chapel length train. Her full length veil of Italian Punta Margherita lace was worn Madonna style and she carried an old prayer book covered with Brussel's lace borrowed from a friend. A small bouquet of stephanotis with eucalyptus adorned the prayer book.

Miss Patricia Monger was maid of honor for her sister. Bridesmaids were Miss Dorothy Rockwood, Lancaster; Mrs. Thomas Alberts, St. Clair Shores, Mich., and Mrs. Paul Amos, Montreal, Canada. They wore floor length gowns of maize batiste. Tulip embroidery trimmed the Kabuchi sleeves and hemline of the modified sheath skirts. Matching picture hats completed their ensembles.

Miss Mary Lee Monger, sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. Miss Susan Westphall, niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl.

Mr. Peter Cundill, Montreal, Canada, served as best man. Ushers were Mr. Jean Turgeon, Quebec, Canada, Mr. Henri Eschautier, Mr. Robert Robinson and Mr. Russell Williams, all of Toronto, Canada, Mr. Michael Meighen, Montreal, Canada and Mr. James MacLaren, brother of the bridegroom, Buckingham, Canada.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Auntie Is Pretty Cheap

DEAR ABBY: Our 12-year-old son took our power lawn mower to his aunt's house, which is near us. He told her that her lawn needed cutting and he would be glad to cut it. She asked how much he charged, and he said he wouldn't charge her anything. She told him to go ahead. (They have close to one acre.) Just as he was finishing, his uncle came home and asked our boy if he had been paid for the job yet. He said he wasn't charging a thing. Then his uncle FORCED two dollars on our son. This evening, the wife called me and said she thought it was pretty cheap of our son to accept the two dollars for a job he agreed to do for nothing. Then she reminded me for the fiftieth time of all the clothes her son had outgrown and she had given me for our son. What do you make of this? How should it be handled?

BURNED UP
DEAR BURNED: Auntie is "pretty cheap." And should she again offer you hand-me-downs, suggest that she make the Salvation Army or Good Will Industries the objects of her generosity.

DEAR ABBY: Years ago my father was also faced with the problem of having the neighbor's chickens wander into our yard. This is how he solved it: He pierced tiny holes in dry corn kernels. Then, using a fine silk sewing thread, just long enough to reach the chicken's craw, he threaded each kernel of corn and attached a note to the other end of the thread. It read: "PLEASE KEEP ME HOME. I FEEL FOOLISH." This didn't hurt the chickens, but they did look mighty silly walking around with those messages hanging from their beaks. The chickens never visited us again, and relations with our neighbors remained friendly.

L.S.H.
DEAR L.S.H.: And therein lies a moral: Never underestimate the power of corn.

DEAR ABBY: Back in 1905

my mother thought up a good way to keep the neighbor's chickens out of our yard. She soaked bread crusts in Dad's corn liquor (much to his displeasure) and she scattered these crusts around our yard, where the chickens visited daily. The chickens came over as usual, ate their fill and promptly passed out just like humans all over our yard. My mother went out, picked them up and threw them back into their owner's yard. When the neighbors saw their chickens lying there like dead, they got the hint. No more chickens for mother. It was much cheaper than calling a lawyer, too.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "DEDICATED PARENTS IN SEATTLE": I regret that you misunderstood my reply to "Heartbreak." I did not, and would not, advocate automatic institutionalizing all mentally retarded. Nor did I imply that all mentally retarded are dangerous.

Of America's 5½ million retarded, only 210,000 are in institutions. Many are able to live happy, useful lives at home. Efforts are being made to educate parents of retarded children as to the nature of retardation, how it differs from mental illness, how limited the life of the retarded child will be, and how to help the child accept these limitations. I hope that

Bride, Groom Say 'I Do,' Then Jump

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — The bride and groom said "I Do," then clasped hands and jumped from the small plane more than a mile in the sky.

That was the way the wedding went as two sky diving enthusiasts, Alvin Lownsbury, 31, of Copley and Patricia Cristy, 22, of Akron, were married Sunday.

The couple dropped 3,300 feet in free fall before opening their parachutes over Canton City Airport, where the wedding reception was held.

The bride wore a white jump suit. "You couldn't very well wear a wedding dress when jumping. It might become tangled in the lines," she observed.

The groom was dressed in dark blue.

It was the 17th jump for the bride since she started sky diving three months ago. The groom has made more than 130 jumps.

Lema Borrows Palmer's Putter, then Beats Arnie

CLEVELAND (AP) — Arnold Palmer will be a bit more careful in the future about lending putters to competitors.

About six weeks ago Tony Lema broke the weapon he had been using on the greens, and big-hearted Arnie lent him one of his own.

Sunday, in a great come-from-behind effort, and in an extra-hole sudden death playoff, Tony used the borrowed club to beat Palmer out of the $20,000 top prize in the $100,000 Cleveland Open Golf Tournament. Palmer settled for second place and $12,000.

Arnie and Jack Nicklaus, at the end of 54 holes, were deadlocked at 11-under-par 202 and three strokes ahead of the field.

Nicklaus fell out of it on the first hole of the final round, taking a bogey to Palmer's birdie—and never came close to making up the two strokes.

But Lema, waving his putter like a magic wand, then stepped into the act. He sank putts of 15, 15, 8, 5 and 18 feet for five straight birdies to end the front nine—and he was deadlocked with Palmer. He birdied No. 14 with a 40-footer, and got down in two strokes from 45 feet for another on No. 16.

He was one ahead coming to 18, where he stuck his approach six feet from the hole. He was shooting for a course-record 63 if he could sink it, and he could also force Palmer, who was a pair of threesomes back, to birdie the last two holes to tie.

But the putt rolled eight inches past the cup. He missed about it—but the eight-inch gap also stayed out and he had a bogey. Palmer parred in to tie, and almost won it when his putt hit the back of the cup on 18 and stayed out. They finished at 270, or 14 under par for the Highland Park layout.

Lema birdied the first extra hole with a 15-footer, giving him the verdict and reversing last year's decision in the same tournament when Palmer beat him 67 to 70 in a playoff.

Nicklaus finished two strokes off the pace at 272, deadlocked

Miami Trace Names New Grid Mentor

Paul Orr, principal of Greenfield McClain High School, has been named head football coach and athletic director at Miami Trace High School.

Orr, head grid mentor and athletic director at Greenfield before becoming principal in 1960, was hired during a special meeting of the Miami Trace Board of Education.

He will succeed Dan O'Brien as Panther grid coach and will replace Robert Melick as head of the MT Athletic department.

Last week Jon Wildermuth of Middletown was named head basketball coach at the South Central Ohio League school.

Ohio Fishing Nearing Peak

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's fishing season is in full swing now, and much of the news coming from the state's recreation areas concerns the pastime that involves more people than any other sport.

For example, the Ohio Division of Wildlife has these reports on fish and fishing:

Thus far this year, there have been 44 muskies big enough to qualify for one of the two Huskie Muskie Club categories reported to the Division of Wildlife which sponsors the club. Four of these were Huskie Muskies, at least 40 inches long and weighing 20 pounds. Of the four, two exceeded the former state record. On April 5, Harry Doyle of Canfield caught a 51-inch, 34-pounder at Leesville Reservoir to set a new record. This record was broken April 28 when Kenneth Keister of Elyria landed a 51-inch, 36-pound, 10-ounce muskie, also at Leesville.

Ebenhack Second Leading Driver At Scioto Downs

Emmett Ebenhack, the diminutive reinsman from Circleville, is waging a spirited battle in the race for leading driver honors at Scioto Downs, with the veteran Erv Samples of Rockford. Samples is the current leader with a percentage of .422, and Ebenhack is second with a percentage of .389.

Other leaders in the top ten include young Dave McConaughy, Larry Richard, last year's Scioto leader; the veteran Forrest Short and Jim Arledge both of Circleville; Arlo Edwards, John Isaacs, Brad Farrington, and Johnnie Wilson.

Hall-Adkins Unit Splits Twin Bill With Hillsboro '9'

The Circleville American Legion baseball team split a twin bill yesterday at Ted Lewis Park, defeating Hillsboro, 7-4, in the opening tilt and losing by a 6-5 margin in the second.

The split gives the Hall Adkins Post nine, a 2-2 record in the South Central Ohio League.

George Reeser hurled the local baseballers to the opening allowing four hits and whiffing five. He walked four.

The four hits Reeser allowed were all singles.

THE LOCAL nine went ahead in the first inning. Arnie Gabel reached first base when the Hillsboro right fielder dropped the ball. He scored on an error by the catcher.

With two out, Ken Roese was walked and forced the error by stealing second.

In the third inning the Hall Adkins unit tallied three runs. Lone was safe on an error, Gabriel walked and then Tom Seeley, Roese and Skip Lutz cracked successive singles.

The winners added three runs in the fifth frame when lery led off with a single, stole second and then scored on Roese's single. Howard Dade blasted a homerun to score Roese. It was the long-est hit of the day.

Hillsboro scored a pair of runs in the third inning by taking advantage of a pair of singles and an error.

The visitors came back with two in the top of the sixth inning when the first batter walked, the third man up was hit with a pitched ball and the fourth man singled, scoring both runs.

THE SECOND game saw the visiting Hillsboro nine jump off to a four-run performance in the first inning on three hits, an error and a walk.

A pair of singles added another tally in the second frame and the final run was scored in the sixth inning on a single and an error.

The visitors cracked a total of eight hits off Jeff Lutz, the losing pitcher.

Fred Cluff hurled the win for Hillsboro. In the first inning he drove in a pair of runs with a double.

Circleville scored two runs in the second inning. Howard Dade walked, moved to second on a wild pitch stole third and then went home on a passed ball. Jeff Ankrom walked and then scored in Jim Diltz's single.

In the sixth inning, a short rally started when Chet lery led off with a walk. He scored on a fielder's choice. Dade walked and was driven home by Ankrom's double. Ankrom, in turn, scored on George Reeser's single.

CHET IERY SR., manager of the local Legion team, reported that several boys have dropped from the team because of summer employment.

He noted that practices are held 6 p. m. Wednesday and Friday on the Pickaway Twp. School diamond. He urged any youth with high school experience to try out for the team.

Sunday the local unit will host Wilmington at Ted Lewis Park.

Rochester Aims For IL Pennant

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Don't look now, but Rochester's Red Wings have their eyes on the International League pennant.

The Wings defeated league-leading Jacksonville in both games of a doubleheader Sunday to jump into second place, just a game behind the Suns.

Rochester won the first game 5-2 and the second 3-1. In other games, Toronto dropped two to Columbus, 4-2 and 3-1, to fall from second to third place in the standings; Syracuse took a pair from Atlanta, 12-3 and 8-4, and Richmond and Buffalo split a twin-

Mira's Grid Future Bright

Miamian Leads East to Victory

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — George Mira, the fast draw of Miami, may be the hottest new name in football before the new season is over.

Mira definitely was the most exciting performer in the All-American Game Saturday night, when he passed the East to an 18-15 victory over the West.

The 21,112 fans left War Memorial Stadium raving about Mira's strong arm, accurate passes and daring running.

The kid from Key West, Fla., put on a tremendous show in the second-half, throwing for one touchdown and setting up two more.

Mira belongs to the San Francisco 49ers, a club plagued by quarterback miseries last season after John Brodie was injured. Brodie, of course, is an established star but Coach Jack Christiansen will have to take a long hard look at Mr. Mira.

The 5-foot-11 passer has been called too small for the pros. Critics claim he wouldn't find his targets, behind the rush of the whales who man pro defensive lines. They are having second thoughts today.

Carl Eller (257 pounds) of Minnesota, Scott Appleton (245) of Texas, and Lloyd Voss (250) of Nebraska are high - priced, highly regarded pro rookie linemen.

They manned the middle of the West line but Mira hit with 14 of 20 passes in the second half and an over-all total of 21 of 40 for 306 yards.

"I never played against men as big as the West team," Mira said. "It was a real test and I am glad I passed it. I had no trouble seeing my receivers. I think I was able to prove something to myself—that size alone won't bother me."

Perfect Games Set Pro Bowling Pace SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—Ray Bluth of St. Louis rolled the second perfect game of the $21,000 Spokane Pro Bowling Open finals Sunday night in winning his first PBA championship.

Bluth opened the evening round in fourth place, 132 pins behind Les Schissler of Denver, who rolled a 300 in the afternoon session, and ended as the halfway leader.

bill, Richmond winning the opener 11-2 and Buffalo the second 2-1.

Radatz Curbs Indians in Win Quest

CLEVELAND (AP) — If the Cleveland Indians had nightmares after returning home from a road trip Sunday night, blame it on "The Monster," big Dick Radatz, ace of the Boston relief corps.

The Indians and the Red Sox each produced 20 hits in Sunday's doubleheader, but "The Monster" made the difference, coming in in the late innings in each game to preserve a Red Sox victory.

The scores were 8-5 and 4-3. The double loss came at the end of an 11-game road trip during which the Indians lost eight and won only three, and it dropped Cleveland into the second division, Boston taking over fifth place by percentage points.

The Indians cracked four homers, two by Leon Wagner in the opener and one each by Dick Donovan and Al Smith in the second game, but they could do nothing against the 6-foot-5, 235-pound Radatz, who pitched two innings in the first game and two and two-thirds in the second.

But O'Dell bore down and fed Jim Gilliam a slider which the Dodger infielder popped up. Pinch hitter Lee Walls fanned on a fast ball and Maury Wills bounced out, leaving the three runners stranded.

The Phillies slipped to second in a disastrous 8-2 nightcap loss to the Cardinals after Chris Short hurled a five-hit shutout winning the opener 5-0.

Elsewhere in the NL, Milwaukee swept two from New York 7-6 and 9-0; Cincinnati ended a five-game Pittsburgh winning streak with a double victory, 6-2 and 6-5 and Chicago and Houston split, the Cubs winning the first game 10-2 and the Colts taking the nightcap 4-1 in 10 innings.

In the American League, Boston swept two from Cleveland 8-5 and 4-3; New York and Detroit split with the Yankees taking the opener 8-6 and the Tigers the nightcap 6-5; Baltimore nipped Washington 6-4; Minnesota whacked Chicago 9-3 and Kansas City blanked Los Angeles 4-0.

O'Dell Dumps Dodgers into Ninth Place

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Billy O'Dell has a pain in his neck and the Los Angeles Dodgers hurt every time they look at the National League standings.

O'Dell, sidelined most of the season with the neck ailment, put the crimp on a ninth inning Dodger rally Sunday and preserved a 1-0 San Francisco victory which vaulted the Giants into the league lead and dumped the world champion Dodgers into ninth place.

Ron Herbel had blanked the Dodgers for eight innings before the Giants got a run off Don Drysdale on two hits, a walk and Orlando Cepeda's sacrifice fly. Herbel needed just three more outs for the victory. He didn't get any of them.

Ron Fairly and Frank Howard opened the Dodger ninth with singles and Giant Manager Alvin Dark lifted Herbel. O'Dell came on and when John Roseboro bunted for a hit loading the bases, Billy might've wished he was any place except the Candlestick Park mound.

But O'Dell bore down and fed Jim Gilliam a slider which the Dodger infielder popped up. Pinch hitter Lee Walls fanned on a fast ball and Maury Wills bounced out, leaving the three runners stranded.

Views on Television — Radio

EDITOR'S NOTE—Dave Garroway, whose life three years ago was shattered by a personal tragedy, stepped out of a successful television career for a period of re-evaluation. Now he is returning to broadcasting with a daily radio show on CBS' New York flagship station. Today, he writes as a guest for Cynthia Lowry, AP television-radio writer, who is on vacation.

By DAVE GARROWAY
Dear Cynthia,
Delighted to be a guest columnist. I have your note and it says the column should say what the last three years have meant to me—in 500 words and keep it brief.

A great girl singer we both know announced a while ago that she was planning to divorce her husband. One of her friends said, "After all, you've been married for 11 years now. Why, after 11 years, would you want to divorce him?" The girl singer said, "If you've got 11 years to listen, I'll tell you why."

I know how she feels, but I did learn one thing of great use to me—and maybe to your readers.

I used to say to myself, "Garroway, when you buy a new household appliance or a new tool, with it is a printed set of operating instructions. If you keep those instructions handy and observe them, you'll get the best service and it won't be laid up in the shop for repairs very often."

"I shall write down the operating rules that make me work best."

I spent a good many years collecting the instructions, finally narrowing them down to these few:

1. "He who ignores the lessons of history is condemned to relive it."

2. "This above all, to thine own self be true."

3. "First in the art of living is not to be delicate about money."

I'd better tell you that none of the above, I've found, is true or useful as a method by which I might safely predetermine my action.

No. 1 is only true if the conditions under which the historical act occurred tend to be the same as those governing the act in which I am interested. Since it can't happen at the same time it follows that the result cannot be judged the same way.

2. I had forgotten the second part of this quote, I guess—"and it follows thou can't not be false to any man." Well, that wasn't what I was interested in so much as getting over difficult problems by believing in myself.

No. 3 is probably the best of all but I just can't do it somehow. I know if I could be less delicate about money I'd have more and I've tried but I'd rather spend the money than go through the frustration of—oh, my cheeks are blushing, let's forget the whole thing about money. I don't want to talk about it, it's a very delicate subject.

At the end of three years I've torn up the operating instructions, the checklist, and put the machine into gear. I'm running wide open down the right track and let me tell you it's a pretty good feeling. I now think you go out and get things and bring them home.

The fuel that I've found to run this machine was suggested to me very casually one day by a friend. "Dave," he said, "remember there is such a thing as courage."

I don't know why that sentence worked for me; it just might for you. Try a drop in your tank and see what happens and—courage!

Harsha Speaks

Vote Declared Necessary In Move for Apportionment

Recently, the Supreme Court of the United States decided that the individual States do not have the authority or the right to apportion one house of their legislatures on the basis of factors other than population alone. The Court declared that the Equal Protection Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment requires that the States compose both bodies of their legislatures so that every member of each house represents substantially the same number of people.

If legislative districts are not equal in population, so the Court contends, voters in the more heavily populated districts will suffer an unconstitutional debasement of their votes.

It has appeared to a rapidly increasing number of thoughtful citizens that the Supreme Court has begun in recent years to exceed its proper authority and usurp powers which long have been held to belong to the States or to other branches of the federal government. Certainly, this latest decision would support this opinion.

Initially, the Supreme Court must be questioned for its decisions which impose a novel interpretation of the Equal Protection Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment.

The Fourteenth Amendment was introduced, discussed, and passed by the Congress, and ratified by the States as a single unit. Its sections must be interpreted together and not split apart to stand alone in meaning. History reveals that from its inception, the Fourteenth Amendment was never intended to prevent a State from choosing any legislative structure it believes best suited to its needs.

The policy of apportioning one body of a State legislature on factors other than population long preceded the enactment of the Fourteenth Amendment. Long before the establishment of the Government of the United States, Colonial States existed. These States were composed of legislatures which had one or more bodies made up of members who were selected by means other than population alone. The drafters of the Federal Constitution were in agreement that the political rights of the States should be preserved if the peoples of the States agreed to form a Union. To this end, the "Great Compromise" was achieved.

In order to safeguard the rights of the smaller states and to grant them an equal voice in the Union, the Senate of the United States was to be composed of two members selected by the people of each State. The weight and importance of the large states was to be insured through the House of Representatives.

The analogy to the legislatures of the States may be closely drawn. Not only did all the original States have legislatures in which at least one body was selected on factors other than population, but the drafters of the Constitution recognized the value of this plan and clearly intended that no action of the federal government should overturn it.

It is correct to say, as the Supreme Court does, that legislators represent the people, not trees or acres. But, the people who reside in States are not mere numbers. They are people with dissimilar and sometimes conflicting needs, with ever-changing problems that sometimes fail to yield to computer logic. Through the wisdom of the people themselves, they may well decide that there is a need for representation of a particular interest in one body of a legislature in contrast to the representation of general interests in the other body.

Among people, conflicting interests of varying degree develop, with each conflict producing a majority and a minority. Certainly, the majority must have effective rule, but the minority, too, is entitled to effective representation lest important segments of our people be completely subject to the tyranny of temporary majority.

To authorize both houses of a legislature to be apportioned on the basis of local need or selected interest would, of course, be unfair and inimical to the general public interest. But, by the same token, the requirement that both houses be apportioned strictly on population alone would amount to a desertion of the rights of the minority and to a cavalier abandonment of the unique needs of the individual citizen.

For these reasons, I have introduced a resolution to amend the Constitution of the United States so that States may apportion one house on the basis of factors other than population. In so providing, however, the citizens of the State shall have the opportunity to vote upon such apportionment.

The Supreme Court calls for apportionment on the theory of "one man, one vote." A slogan, of course, cannot be a proper substitute for logic and in all likelihood, it won't, for long, guard individual rights.

As indicated, apportionment according to population must be tempered by other considerations of equal importance. But, in so doing, it is necessary to permit all qualified people of a State to vote upon plans of apportionment so that the rights of the majority cannot be seriously or unfairly impaired.
